Be Enlightened

Teacher asked the students on entering the class-room, "Has the uniform color changed in the school?"

'No Sir'. All replied together.

The teacher again asked, "If it is so, then why are you all wearing blue shirt instead of white?"

All the students started looking towards their shirts and then they looked towards clothes of other students but all were wearing white shirts only. Someone said, "No sir, we all are wearing white shirts only."

One of the students looked towards the teacher and said, "Sir today you are wearing blue color specs, that's why our shirts are looking blue to you."

At this the teacher removed his specs and said, "Certainly, there is no change in school uniform and all of you are wearing right uniform but to me you were not appearing in right uniform. When someone told me that I was wearing blue color specs, I understood why I am seeing white as blue."

Describing further the matter and advising the students, the teacher said, "Our specs decide our vision." How we listen to others, and meaning we extract out of it, is the result of our thinking. Not only this, but we make our opinion also about others and pass various comments about others in so many ways. From here we start losing. Our opinion of others is also based on our judgement of them. So, we have to understand the statement made by others as per their thinking only. In this way we will not hold others as wrong nor will we be at loss."

Dear friends! We also want that whatever we say, others should take it in that sense only. We want others to see the things in the same way as we do. For this we also have to put efforts that we take others' statements as they tell us and not by adding our own meaning to it. Understanding things through others' vision helps us to understand the things properly.

Our eyes merely see the outside world but the real vision comes from inside of us. Our wisdom is always there to caution us. When our mind sees what we want to see, we have to enlighten our wisdom. For fulfilling this purpose, Nirankari Sant Samagam is going to be held in Delhi on 18-19-20 November, 2017.

You all are invited to attend the samagam and enjoy the spiritual bliss.

Gist : Thou Fromless One

All our bondages are broken if we apply the dust of the feet of the True Master on our forehead;

The Death is conquered, if we apply the dust of the feet of the True Master on our forehead.

The whole account of our deeds stands cleared, if we apply the dust of the feet of the True Master on our forehead;

All our faults and failings are forgiven, if we apply the dust of the feet of the True Master on our forehead.

We attain God knowledge in a moment, if we apply the dust of the feet of the True Master on our forehead;

We do not get entangled in doubts and delusions, if we apply the dust of the feet of the True Master on our forehead.

The heart as well the eyes find peace and tranquility, if we apply the dust of the feet of the True Master on our forehead;

The whole universe becomes our own, if we apply the dust of the feet of the True Master on our forehead.

Like a lotus in water, we can stay detached in the world of materialism, if we apply the dust of the feet of the True Master on our forehead;

The whole body is transformed, if we apply the dust of the feet of the True Master on our forehead.

None can rely on this mortal body and none knows when one may breathe one's last;

Avtar says, if you come across the True Saint, you should apply the dust of his feet on your forehead.

Precious Words of Baba Hardev Singh Ji Maharaj

☆ To torment others is an easy task like cutting a tree within few seconds, but to please a person is like keeping patience, self-restraint and being alert necessary to nurse a newly planted tree.

- ☆ The winners are not those who have never faced defeat rather they are those who never commit mistake to leave the ground with the fear of being defeated.
- ☆ The real basis of life full of ecstasy is the equilibrium and if this thing is kept in mind, your present and future will always remain brighter.
- ☆ If we devote more and more time to uplift our soul, then we will be left with no time to criticize others.

☆ The flowers fallen from a branch can never blossom again, but if the roots are strong, there will be various new flowers on the branches. Similarly, the life is not that, that we have attained till now, rather the life is that which can still be achieved.

- ☆ Spirituality is the only way out for world-peace.
- ☆ The truth remains eternal.
- ☆ Even the Ganges can't wash out the sins of pain caused to others.
- ☆ Always keep company of good people to elevate yourself.
- ☆ The life spent in darkness of ignorance is burden on earth.

Divine Words of Satguru Mata Savinder Hardev Ji Maharaj

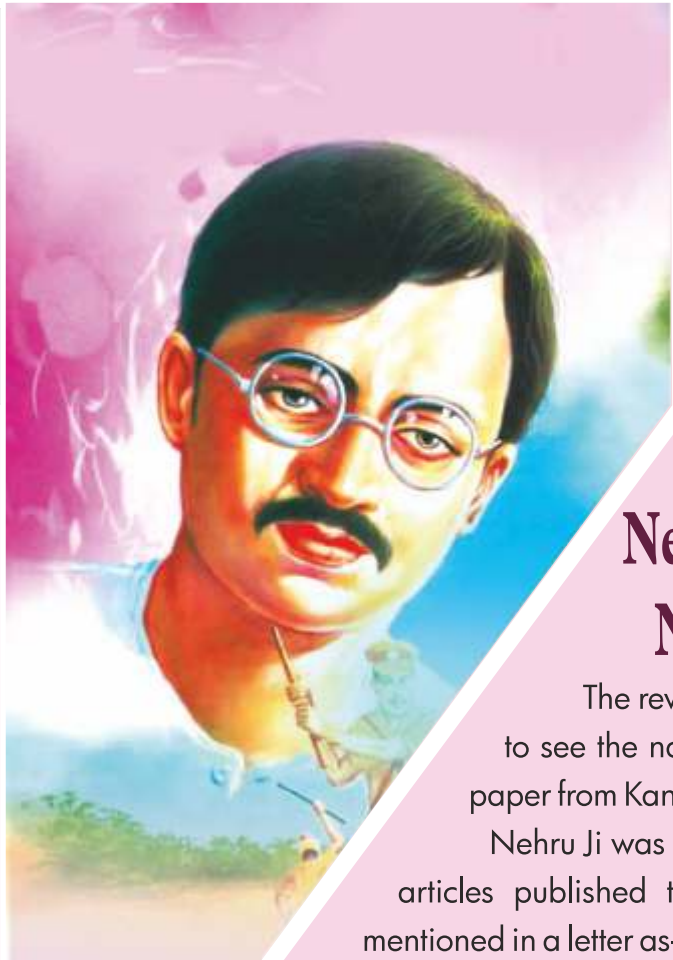

- ★ The language of love is the most loving language. We have to establish an atmosphere of mutual love and harmony.
- ★ Come what may, there should be love and only love.
- ★ Let us value the human values.
- ★ Let every life remain easy.
- ★ Service is a boon for every devotee.
- ★ Let us adopt the feeling of equi-vision.
- ★ Let us keep-up the identity of a devotee.
- ★ The actions of a saint are the recognition of his life.
- ★ The saints always prefer the attitude of benevolence.
- ★ Let the attitude of gratitude towards God prevail.
- ★ Humans have no existence without God.
- ★ The entire world will automatically embellish, when we embellish ourselves.
- ★ The selfless service is supreme.
- ★ Let all contribute together for the development of the Mission.
- ★ Let us all appreciate the sacrifices made for the sake of humanity.
- ★ Oneness will lead to the feeling of Entire Humanity-One Family.

Nehru Ji Cleaning the News-Paper Office

The revolutionary Ganesh Shankar Vidyarthi was willing to see the nation as independent. That's why he published a paper from Kanpur to incite the people for independence.

Nehru Ji was very much impressed with the newspaper and the articles published therein by Ganesh Shankar Vidyarthi and he mentioned in a letter as-"I will soon come to meet you in your newspaper office".

Ganesh Shankar read the letter but he forgot the message of Nehru Ji coming to his office. He usually remained busy, so couldn't properly maintain the cleanliness of his office.

On one side of his office, there was a heap of newspapers under print, and the bundles of inward-post received on the other side. Not only this, but also the papers remained scattered on his table and dust-particles were easily visible on it and he used to pull on his work under such circumstances.

As per his letter, Nehru Ji reached the office of 'Ganesh Shankar Vidyarthi', but he was not present there. Nehru Ji had to wait for him there.

Nehru Ji saw that the papers were scattered on the table. He properly arranged them and also did dusting of chair and table with a piece of cloth in order to utilize his time of waiting.

On reaching back to his office, when Ganesh Shankar Vidyarthi saw Nehru Ji cleaning his office, he immediately begged pardon from Nehru Ji and inculcated the habit of cleaning his office daily.

Once gods and demons did sea churning unitedly. Mandrachal mountain was used as a churn for sea-churn. Nagraj Vasuki was used as a rope to rotate the churn. When all arrangements were made, Nagraj Vasuki was wrapped around the Mandrachal mountain, then one of the gods said to his other companions, "During churning, the body of Nagraj Vasuki will get rubbed against the Mandrachal mountain. This will definitely make Vasuki angry and there lies every possibility that it may bite some of the people standing near it's mouth".

The gods took the statement of their colleague as convincing. After discussion it was decided that the things should be planned in such a way that monster should remain towards the mouth of Vasuki and gods towards its tail. Now the problem was how to prepare demons to hold the mouth of Nagraj Vasuki?

Devguru Jupiter advised, "If we speak to demons in this regard, they will definitely compel us to hold the mouth of Vasuki. So, this issue must be resolved skilfully and not through discussion".

Hearing their guru, everybody started looking towards him enthusiastically. Devraj Inder humbly said, "You please tell us some solution".

Devguru Jupiter said, "Demon are egoistic and so can't use their brain. While taking any decision, the egoist doesn't value it being convincing rather it values its ego. We should take advantage of this weakness of demons". After a pause, gurudev said further, "You all go running and hold Nagraj Vasuki from its mouth side. The egoistic demons will definitely follow suit. And thus our job will be over”.

Gods obeyed the orders of gurudev Jupiter. All stood towards Vasuki's mouth. When demons saw gods standing towards the mouth of Nagraj Vasuki at their own, they got suspicious. They took it to be some move of gods.

The demon head immediately moved ahead and said to devraj Inder, “How could you stand towards the mouth of Vasuki without having dialogue with us? This decision has to be taken unanimously by us that who will hold Nagraj from mouth side and who from tail side”?

On this statement of demon head, Devraj Inder said, “What is there to be discussed? We are gods and everyone respects us. We have special status in society. How can we hold Vasuki from tail side? We noble people will hold Nagraj from mouth side only, and you demons will hold from tail”.

The egoistic demon king got into rage on hearing the reply of Devraj Inder. He spoke out of his ego-

“If you are proud of you being gods then we are also proud of we being the demon. We are no less than you in power. We have defeated you so many times in the battle. We will never come under your pressure. We shall remain towards the mouth side of Vasuki and you will have to catch it from tail”.

Devraj Inder said strongly, “This is impossible. We gods will hold Vasuki from mouth side only and you will have to hold from tail side. We can't get insulted by standing on tail side”.

The demon king replied in grave anger, “We are least concerned about your disrespect or respect. You have to accept our terms if you are interested in sea churning. We will hold Vasuki from mouth side and gods have to hold it from tail side”.

Before Devraj Inder could say anything, Devguru Jupiter said with the idea of mutual agreement, “Devraj Inder! This is not the time for conflict over respect or disrespect. If we continue to raise such conflict, then sea churning will not be possible. So we should do such things which could benefit all. This will add to respect of all of us”.

Then Devguru Jupiter said to demon king, “Demon king! We are prepared for sea churning by holding Vasuki from tail. You demon only hold Vasuki from mouth. Now please hurry up so that the work can start”.

Demon held Vasuki from mouth while gods held from tail and sea churning started. As the churn of Mandrachal mountain started moving fast, a pain started in the body of Nagraj Vasuki. It started hissing in anger and it bit many demon. Many demon became senseless due to the poisonous air released through the hissing of Nagraj, whereas the gods could complete sea churning without any harm.

The egoistic people have such a bad fate. Had the demon not have futile pride and had given a wise thought to the entire happening, no harm could have reached them.

Ajay Kalara

Once, there was a poor boy. He was very fond of studies, But owing to shortage of funds, his studies were often hampered.

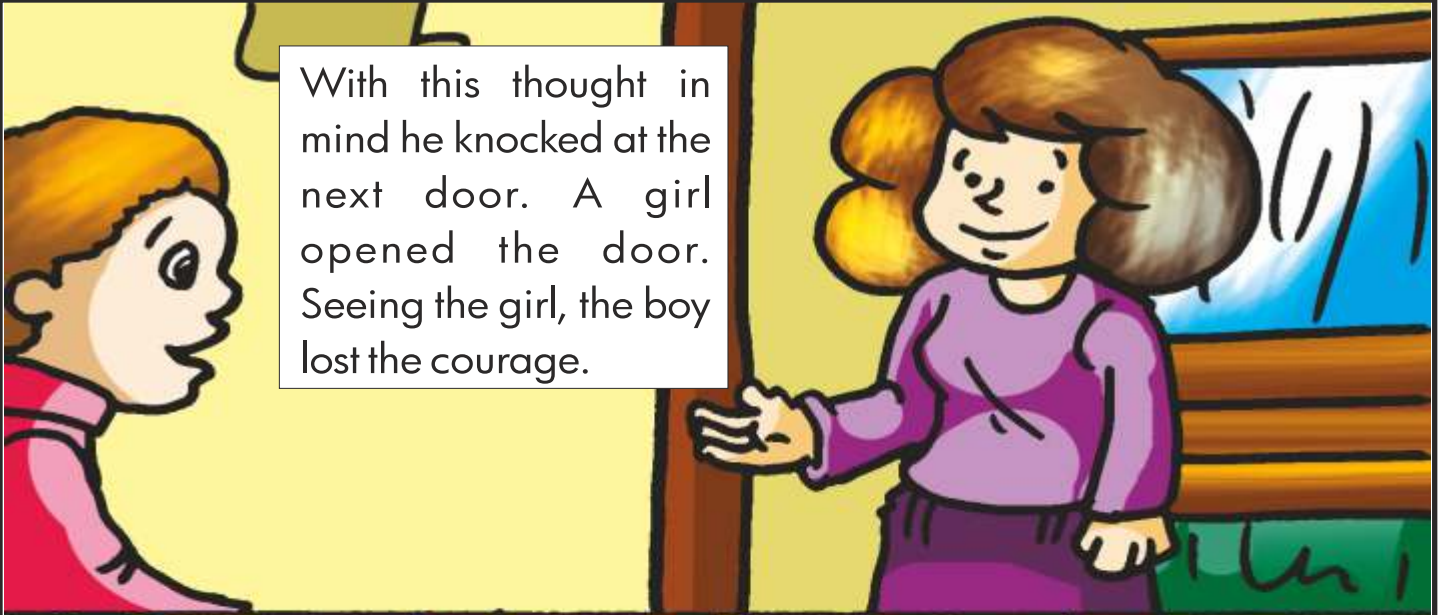

He would go door-to-door to collect waste papers and sell them to float money for his studies.

Once, while collecting waste paper, he got tired. He thought of asking for food, instead of waste paper, at he next door.

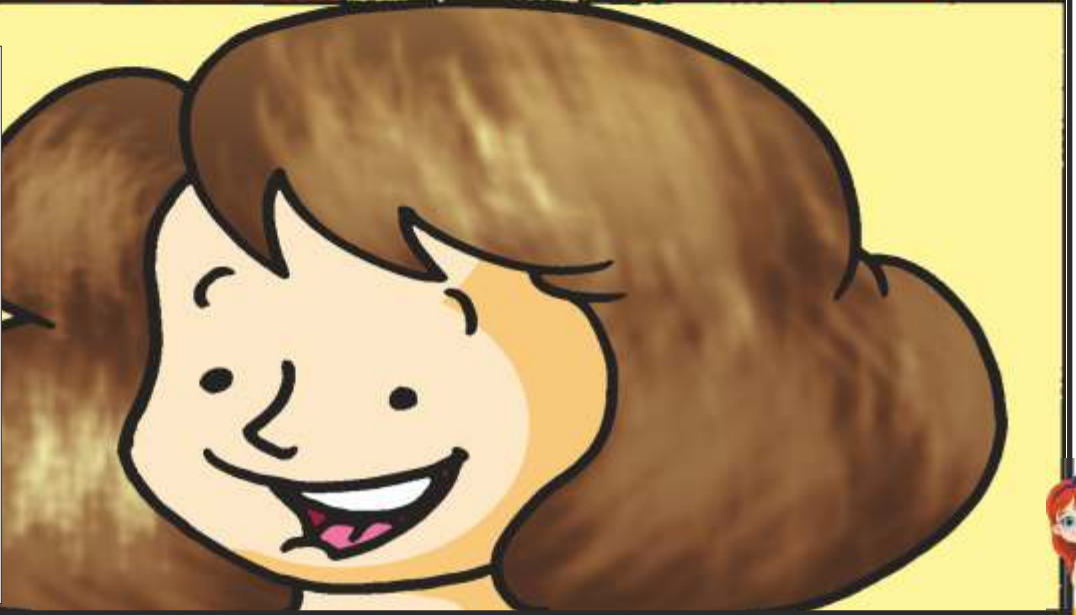

With this thought in mind he knocked at the next door. A girl opened the door. Seeing the girl, the boy lost the courage.

Instead of food, he only asked for a glass of water. But the girl brought a glass full of milk and offered it to the boy.

After taking the milk, the boy said, "Sister I don't have money to pay for the milk. How shall I pay off this debt of yours?"

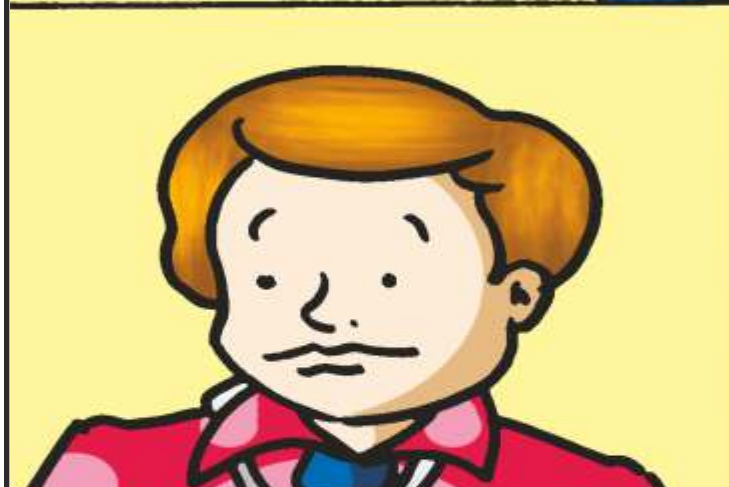

The girl laughed and said-my father says, "Our service should be selfless." I felt that you were hungry. So, I brought milk for you.

The boy thanked the girl in his heart of hearts
and left

Years went by. On growing in age, that poor boy came to be known in the world as Dr. Haward Kelly.

Dear children, it was Dr. Hawad Kelly who first used Radium in the treatment of cancer. To treat cancer, he also discovered so many other things

One day, while Dr. Kelly was working in his hospital, he got the information that a lady with severe illness had come to the hospital.

On knowing the name of the village the lady had come from, he came running, this was the same lady who had once served him milk. But the lady could not recognise the doctor.

Dr. Kelly worked hard and treated the lady successfully.

When the hospital-bill was presented to her, the lady opened it worriedly. She knew that she won't be able to pay the bill whole of her life.

Every service is fruitfully rewarded, thanks for your glass of milk

Dr. Howard

She was surprised to see the bill which mentioned- The bill is already paid. "Every service is fruitfully rewarded. Thanks for your glass of milk,"- Dr. Howard Kelly. On reading this, tears welled the eyes of the lady. It affirmed her faith in God all the more

Welcome to Samagam

The unique international 70th Annual Sant Samagam in Delhi has been fixed for November 18 to 20. This Samagam will be followed by Guru Vandana celebrations on 21st November, 2017.

As in the past, you must all be preparing yourself for this spiritual mega-event. Needless to say, none of you would miss the occasion. Rather, you would inspire your friends as well as the neighbors too to avail this opportunity of attaining spiritual bliss.

So, welcome to the Samagam. As usual, hundreds and thousands of saints from all over the world would grace the occasion. On entering the celebration ground, there would be Nirankari Exhibition depicting the ideology and history of the Mission. The camps spread in vast grounds will illuminate the venue like a town that would accommodate the visiting devotees. All sorts of civic amenities are provided throughout the Samagam premises. The arrangement of community meals and canteens is also well made at the venue. Patrika Vibhag will have a special enclosure in the Celebration Ground to enroll subscribers for the Nirankari Magazines. The Vibhag will also release a Samagam Souvenir-2017 on FAITH which will be special attraction for the devotees.

There will be revealing lectures from a galaxy of saints across the country and overseas. The enlightening discourses of Her Holiness Satguru Mataji will be there on all the three days.

You will gain a lot by attending the Samagam.

Desire for Return of Charity

There lived a rich person named Lakshmi Narayan in Kanchanpur. He was a social worker and generous hearted person, having no dearth of money. He was very much helpful to the needy people. People from far off places reach him with their problems and he used to solve all those in seconds.

Once some people came to him with the proposal of a dispensary and said, "Give charity for medicines".

"How much amount you need"? Asked Seth Ji.

One of the persons coming to take charity said, "If you give a charity of Rs50000/-, then your name will appear in bold letters on the inscription of main door of the hospital.

Hearing this Seth Ji immediately counted the amount from his safe and put it before them and very humbly requested them to count the same.

When the members counted the amount, they found that the amount of Rs50000/- was just short by one rupee only. They immediately said to Seth Ji that just by adding one rupee more, the amount of Rs50000/- will be complete.

At this Seth Ji said, "This much charity is enough for me. I do not want any publicity for the charity. The importance of charity vanishes if it is publicised. The importance should be of the purpose of dispensary and not of the name of the donor. If the charity is publicized, then how the poor people will get the inspiration of sacrifice and service? The real happiness that we get through service can not be achieved by inscribing our names on the stones. There should not be any desire of return in charity, because that vanishes the divine sanctity of selfless service.

They people were very much impressed through such words of Seth Ji and left with the charity.

Benefits of Garlic

Garlic contains calcium, copper, potassium, phosphorus, iron and vitamin B1. It is high in a sulphur compound called Allicin, which has potent medicinal properties.

For centuries, garlic has been cited as a useful agent to fight infectious diseases. It was traditionally used in ancient cultures to reduce fatigue and enhance the work capacity.

The health benefits of garlic are innumerable. Garlic is rich in nutrients like Selenium and Vitamin C which help treat eye infections and swelling. It also contains antioxidants that help to eliminate free radicals and sickness-causing toxins.

Eating garlic improves cholesterol levels which lower the risk of heart diseases. It helps to prevent and reduce the severity of common diseases, like flu and cold.

Sulphur present in garlic helps in reducing inflammation. Consuming garlic is one way to give our immune system an extra boost. It is also effective for protecting the brain from memory loss. Its intake has beneficial effects on osteoarthritis also.

Daily inclusion of garlic in your diet aids in eliminating various digestive problems. Its role in dispelling worms is phenomenal. Garlic also protects the skin from damages caused by free radicals and oxidation that eventually results in wrinkles.

An Atheist Says, "Almighty God is Really Great"

Doctor Mark is a renowned Cancer Specialist. He has no faith in God. He trusts his hard work.

Once he was going to a distant city to participate in a Conference. There he was to be honoured on account of his extraordinary new medical research. He was very much excited and wanted to reach there at the earliest. He had worked hard for this research. He was very much enthusiastic to receive that reward. Two hours after taking his flight, a serious technical problem arose in the Aeroplane and it had to land in emergent situation. Dr. Mark felt that he won't be able to reach in time in the meeting. So he enquired from the local staff about the way out and engaged a Taxi. He got the Taxi, but no driver. So he decided to drive the Taxi himself.

As he started journey via Taxi, soon wind/dust storm took place. The visibility of the route diminished altogether. Under the circumstances he took a wrong turn but he realized only After almost two hours that he had taken a wrong route. Besides being tired, he also felt very hungry. On this lone road he started driving the taxi here and there in search of food. He saw a small hut at some distance and stopped his taxi near the hut. In that upset situation, he came out of taxi and knocked at the door of the hut. A lady opened the door. Dr. Mark explained his plight and sought permission for making phone call. The lady told that she has no phone. Even then she requested him to come in and have a cup of tea and suggested him to travel after the weather became fine. Drenched, hungry and tired Doctor instantly gave his consent to take rest and have tea. The lady got him seated and served him tea and food with great regard. Along with she said, "Before taking tea and eating food, let us pray and thank God for His benign blessings." Hearing the talk of that Lady, Doctor smiled and said, "I have no faith in God and in such ceremonies as I believe in hard-work only. You do your prayer yourself. Taking sip after sip of tea, Doctor started looking at the Lady, who along with her small child was praying to God. Doctor Mark realised that there was some problem with the Lady. As soon as the Lady stood up from her prayer seat, Doctor Mark enquired, "What did you ask from God? Do you feel that God will listen to your prayer?"

The Lady sadly answered. "He is my son. He is afflicted with such a disease whose treatment is available only with Doctor Mark. But I have no money to be able to take him to the city where Doctor Mark lives. But I fully believe that one day or the other God will solve the problem. He will not break my faith. He will definitely cure my son through the treatment by Doctor Mark.

Hearing the talks of an unknown woman, Doctor Mark was dumbfounded. He could not utter a word for a while. With tears in his eyes, he spoke slowly and gently, "God is Great."

Doctor Mark started memorising the whole sequence of this episode. How he had to attend a conference? How his aeroplane had to land in this unknown city? How no driver was available for his Taxi? How due to wind storm he forgot his way out and reached this city?

Doctor Mark understood that all this has happened not only due to the Lady's sincere prayers to God but also as God wanted me to rise above the task of earning money, securing reputation etc. and instead spend life to help the destitute needy people. He realised that God wanted him to treat those people who possess no wealth but have full faith in God. It is well known that almost everyone has this misunderstanding, that whatever is happening, is under his own control and that he alone is doing all this. But all of a sudden some unknown power changes all the scenario. Everything is changed in few seconds and only then we realise the omniscience of Almighty God.

Doctor Mark acknowledged that God is omnipresent and really Almighty God is Great.

A perfect smile, a criss-cross lifestyle, happy mornings and late nights
Friendly love and cute fights
Engrossed in One's own world.

Then suddenly a thought strikes-
Some struggle for their survival
Some willing to seek revival
Some looking for new avenues
While some trying to raise their revenues

I wonder – What seems dangerous outside is still less
But what's building in one's own mind is not always confessed
Why are we so blessed?

Then comes a smile, not for a while but for the whole life.
Reminding of “UR PRESENCE”
Connecting me to my “TRUE ESSENCE”
Blissed and blessed we should always be
I humbly pray that our “I” converts to “THEE”

May we nurture ourselves everyday
Train our hearts and minds from not being its own prey
Under your light and guidance
May each of us conquer our own hindrance

Let the message be very clear and loud-
We all are souls -above our bodies
Being undivided by namely geographies

Let our actions speak louder than words
And may we contribute in changing the game of swords
In your holy feet we should always surrender
Reflecting Shehensha Ji's era in every endeavour

Science Questions & Answers

Q .: Compared to other parts of the body why does the brain use maximum oxygen?

A .: Although the brain is only 2% of the total weight of the body but uses 25% of total amount of oxygen received in the body. The reason is that the brain has to do the maximum work as compared to other parts and so it requires oxygen supply regularly. Even if the oxygen supply doesn't reach the brain for 10 minutes there can be a lot of damage to the brain.

Q .: Why is curd used to separate butter from the milk?

A .: We all love to eat butter in our breakfast. But the techniques that we use to prepare butter, we are unaware of that. Butter is made from cream that has been separated from whole milk and then cooled; fat droplets clump more easily when hard rather than soft. The cream separates into butter and buttermilk by the method called churning.

Q .: Why does the cylinder seen lighter after being used for some days in the house?

A .: These days L.P.G cylinders are used in our houses for cooking. In reality the gas which is filled in the cylinder is actually a mixture of propane, ethylene, butane and isobutane. Slowly as the gas is used cylinder starts to get lighter as more space inside becomes empty.

Q .: Why is the colour blue mixed while white washing the walls of house?

A .: Every year to make an effort to make our house look beautiful by white washing. But why do we do this. Actually, as the time passes the walls of house begin to look pale. So to remove the pale affect the powder of white wash is mixed with blue colour. When blue colour is mixed with the powder it becomes whiter than before because of which the colour of the walls also looks brighter.

The Sheep and the Pig

—Nitika Dev, Pandoh(H.P.)

A sheep and a pig were good friends. "Let us find a place to build a house, said the sheep to the pig. We will live in it together," said the pig.

The sheep and the pig set out. On the way, they met a rabbit. "Where are you going?" asked the rabbit. "We are going to build a house," said the sheep and the pig. "May i live with you ?" asked the rabbit.

"I can give wool to make the beds," said the sheep. "I can make the house," said the pig.

"What work can you do?" asked the sheep and the pig. The rabbit said, "I can find carrots for us to eat." "Good!" said the sheep. "Come with us."

The three walked on till they met a goose. "Where are you going?, asked the goose. "We are going to build a house, said the sheep, the pig and the rabbit." "May i live with you?" asked the goose. "What work can you do?" asked the sheep, the pig and the rabbit.

The goose said, "I can collect water in my beak." "Good"! said the sheep, the pig and the rabbit, "Come with us". So, the four went on the way till they met a cock. "Where are you going,?" said the cock.

"We are going to build a house," said the sheep, the pig, the rabbit and the goose.

"May I live with you ?" asked the cock.

"What work can you do? asked the sheep, the pig, the rabbit and the goose."

The Cock said, "I can crow and wake you up."

"Good"! said the sheep, the pig and the rabbit and the goose, "Come with us"

The five friends walked on till they found a large and open land. The pig made the house. The sheep made warm beds. The rabbit got carrots. The goose got water.

Then they all went to sleep.

The next morning, the cock crowed to tell them to rise and do work.

The five friends lived happily in their little house.

The Right Price

There lived a jeweller in Ramgarh. He was very well qualified valuer. He used to tell the exact price of any product by just looking at it once. That is why the people from far-off places continued to come to him to know the actual price of their articles. Slowly, the king of Ramgarh came to know of this thing. The king thought of testing this talent of the jeweller. The king passed an order for the jeweller to appear in his court.

The jeweller appeared in the court on the orders of the king. The king offered a chair to the jeweller to sit in. Then pointing towards the prince sitting beside him he said, "I want to know the actual price of my prince"?

The jeweller got very much astonished to hear the order of the king. He had never estimated the value of a human-being. He was thinking as to what price he should quote for a prince? If the price is quoted less, the king will get angry and punish him and what will happen if the price is quoted on the higher side, no one can say. The jeweller remained in suspense for quite some time. Then he said- Rajan! The job is little tough, so please give me a week's time.

"O.K. You are granted one week time. But if you fail to tell the right price of the prince after a week, then you will be sentenced to death for cheating the people", said the king.

Hearing the decision of the king, the jeweller was back to his home. He continued to think for 2-3 days that after all how the exact price of the prince should be quoted. Seeing the jeweller worried, his father asked him the reason of his worry- "Oh son, you are looking worried, what's the matter"?

When the jeweller narrated the problem to his father, he said, You need not worry. It's very easy to quote the price of the prince. Tomorrow, when you go to the king, you tell him that no one can value the fate lines appearing on prince's head. But if these fate lines are removed, then the prince will not carry any value.

The next day, when the jeweller appeared in the king's court, the king asked, "Have you found the exact price of the Prince"?

The jeweller said, "Yes, Rajan." "What's the exact price?" the king asked.

The jeweller repeated the version of his father by keeping his fingers on the forehead of the prince. The king thought that the jeweller has rightly said that nobody can value the fate due to which my son could become the prince. But if he need to live like a normal human being by doing his duty, he won't be able to earn a little.

The king was pleased with the valuation done by the jeweller. He appreciated the talent of the jeweller and released and gave him huge prize.

The True Devotee's Contest

A king once announced that he wanted to reward the person most devoted to God, in his kingdom. So, he told his minister to make announcements and hold a contest to find out such a devotee.

A large number of applicants gathered in the palace premises. It was decided that the selection would be done by the process of elimination. In the first round the contestants were made to recite verses from the scriptures. A large number failed to pass that test. Only a few cleared it. The second round was about the form and ritual of prayer and how to do it. Each one exhibited his daily routine of prayer and how he executed it. Only three participants impressed the king and all the rest were disqualified. The king's minister had been supervising the entire event.

He said to the king, "My lord, I don't think there is even one real devotee amongst them. They are all frauds!" The king asked in surprise, "Do you really think so? Well! How shall we find a genuine devotee?"

The minister suddenly picked up his stick and started raining blows on the three contestants. The bewildered trio screamed and abused in anger. Each time the stick cracked sharply on either of the three, there was a shout of pain followed by abusive and angry gestures. A moment later, the minister turned to the king's personal attendant who happened to be standing close by and hit him mercilessly with his stick. The poor man shouted, "Oh Krishna, save me, my Lord!"

The king was furious. He shouted, what are you doing? You crazy man! Why are you beating up these innocent people?"

The minister folded his hands in respect and said, "Forgive me, my Lord! This exercise was necessary to find out who the true devotee of the Lord is. It is only in adversity that the true nature of a person comes to the fore. Did you hear the foul language that escaped the lips of these three miserable wretches? Only your attendant gasped in pain with the name of the Lord on his lips.

That is because the name of the Lord is his constant companion. He is the one who deserves the award. Right from the beginning I never believed that any true devotee of God would submit himself to a contest such as this, for it would demean his personal relationship with God. Prayer is something personal; one cannot compete with others for it".

It is only when a person is placed in an uncomfortable position that he shows his true colours. It's easy to be prim and proper in conditions that are conducive and comfortable, but the true test is to maintain your poise in trying times. Adversity introduces a man not only to others, but to himself too!

Moral :-

Any prayer to God for fulfillment of a desire cannot be called devotion.

Kitty

Illustration and Story

—Ajay kalara

Kitty used to get angry quite often. One day its father asked it that whenever it gets angry next time, then it should fix a nail on the wooden board.

Next day, when kitty got angry, it at once fixed a nail on the wooden board. This way it fixed ten nails on the board on the very first day.

Looking to this, kitty thought of controlling its anger. Kitty started controlling its anger and the nails fixed on the board started diminishing.

Then finally a day came when Kitty didn't fix even a single nail on the board. When 2-3 similar days passed, then it again spoke to its father-

Dad, now I do not get angry. I have not fixed a single nail on the board for the past 2-3 days.

Very nice Kitty! Now you remove one nail from the board on the day when you do not feel angry.

After that Kitty started removing one nail from the board on the day it didn't feel angry.

Slowly, all the nails got removed from the board. Kitty again reached its father with that board.

Dear father! All the nails are removed now. What should I do now?

Kitty! Show me this wooden board. Look here, how many holes are there in it?

When we get angry, then the anger causes harm to our body in the same way as the nails have left marks on this board.

Now this wooden board can never be smooth again. Similarly, the anger harms our body. So, we should always keep a check on our anger.

I understand dear father. Now I will never be angry.

Sonam

Sonam and her friend came out of the house. Rajan came to her with the help of crutches. He said "Didi take chocolates." Sonam scolded him saying, "why do you keep pestering me all the time, I don't need the chocolates." Rajan kept looking at her. There were tears in his eyes because of this insult. With the support of crutches he came and sat at the door of his house where he had made small shop of sweet-chocolates. Rajan was afflicted with polio and his one leg was useless. He took the help of crutches to walk. After returning from school he ran a small shop where he sat and kept reading.

Rajan's father was seriously injured last year in an accident and died in spite of treatment. They spent a lot of money and lost the shop as well. Rajan and his mother had to face difficulties. In such bad times his father's friend came to their help. He helped his mother to open a tailoring shop. Divya asked who he was. Sonam said that mom treats him well and he has taken liberty to become my brother. She made a face while saying this. Her friend said "Don't say like this he was offering you a chocolate with love." Sonam answered that he give chocolate to her but took money from her mother. Sonam's father was a high official and she was very proud of him. She never missed the chance to say that she was the daughter of a high official. In school too she spoke to select few girls. She was peeved with Rajan as he used to come to her house.

One day Rajan came when the mother was not at home, Sonam shunted him out of the house. Since then he stopped going to that house. Sonam fell ill and Rajan came to see her and spent some time with her. She liked that as this would keep her in good spirits. As long as Sonam was not well, Rajan kept coming to her. Sonam was well and started going to school.

Sonam was walking with Divya when a Maruti van stopped near her and a man dragged her inside the van. Divya shouted loudly for help. Rajan saw the goons pulling Sonam inside the car and noted the number of Van on his palm. The van sped away. Many people collected after hearing the noise.

They asked Divya for the number of the car. Divya answered that she could not see the number. Rajan replied that he had noted down the number. Surjeet uncle took his mobile and quickly informed the police about the kidnaping of Sonam. He informed the police about the number of the van.

In no time did police apprehend the kidnappers along with the van.

When Sonam's parents came to know of Rajan's presence of mind in getting the culprits nabbed, they thanked him profusely.

Rajan quickly took no credit and said that it's the duty of a brother to save the sister.

Her eyes were filled with tears of repentance as the boy she had insulted saved her.

Strange Place of Monkeys

The monkey too feels winter. Due to winter its body becomes lazy and lifeless. Its body becomes inactive while jumping and climbing on the trees. In order to reactivate its body, the monkey takes bath in burning hot water and immediately after bath it jumps on to the trees. But it happens with the Japanese monkeys.

Yes, there is one strange place in Japan where the monkeys have to save their life by taking bath in burning hot water. Actually, there is a heavy snow fall in the Nagano city valley between December and March. This place is also famous with the name 'Death Valley'. There is one monkey park named "Jigokdani Monkey" Park, where a large number of red and black faced monkeys are settled. In winters, the monkeys have to live in burning hot water in order to save their life. There is a pool containing the burning hot water. The people fond of adventurous life also come for sight-seeing to this area. They capture the various activities of monkeys in their cameras also.

The huge pool where the monkeys take bath and get rid of the chill is called the "Natural Pool" and is very old. It's a belief that the water coming from high mountains contains huge quantity of natural sulphur which increases the temperature of water.

Your All-the-Time, Everyday Friend

Evening and morning and or noon I will pray, and cry aloud, and He shall hear my voice.

Developing your friendship with God is similar to developing a friendship with someone on Earth. It takes time. The truth is that you can be as close to God as you want to be; it all depends on the time you are willing to invest in your relationship with Him. I encourage you to get to know Him by spending time in prayer and in His Word.

Your friendship with God will also deepen and grow as you walk with Him over time on a regular basis and as you experience His faithfulness. The difference between developing a relationship with God as a friend and building relationships with people is that with God, you end up with a friend who is perfect! One who will never leave you nor forsake you. One who is faithful, dependable, loving, and forgiving.

Make a priority of developing a great friendship with God and inviting Him to be a vital part of everything you do, every day. Include Him in your thoughts, in your conversation, and in all your everyday activities. Don't just run to Him when you are desperate; talk to Him in the grocery store, while you are driving your car, combing your hair, walking the dog, or cooking dinner. Approach Him as your partner and friend, and simply refuse to do anything without Him. He really wants to be involved in your life! Let God out of the Sunday-morning box so many people keep Him in and let Him invade your Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and all day Sunday as well. Don't try to keep Him in a religious compartment, because He wants to have free access to every area of your life. He wants to be your friend.

Peacock's Advice to Crow

Once upon a time a crow started to think that he was the ugliest and his voice was not good neither his feathers were beautiful. He had low self esteem began to feel sad. One day a swan saw him sad and asked the reason for his sadness .

The crow said "You are so beautiful but my life is useless." The swan replied dear friend "I am beautiful. When I see the parrot I think he is more beautiful having green feathers and red beak."

He became anxious and went to the parrot. He said "You are so beautiful, you must be very happy. "

Parrot said I was happy till I saw the Peacock I became sad because it's extremely beautiful.

The crow looked for the Peacock but there was not a single Peacock in the entire jungle. The birds in the jungle told that all the peacocks had been captured and taken to the zoo. The crow went to the zoo, and praised the peacock for its beauty. Peacock started crying and said. "Be happy for the fact that you are not beautiful otherwise you would have been trapped in a cage like me."

Moral of the story : 'It's not good to compare oneself with others. The real happiness comes when we do good deeds.
